NARRATOR	A little dragon carried a paper star up a windy hill. It belonged above the garden gate.
DRAGON	One small step.
NARRATOR	The gate opened when it heard a voice. The dragon tried to roar. Only a tiny sound came out.
DRAGON	Listen to my little voice.
NARRATOR	The wind swept the sound away. The gate stayed shut. The paper star shook in the dragon's paws.
DRAGON	I can try again.
NARRATOR	The dragon tried harder, but the wind was louder. The wind bent the paper star.
DRAGON	I'll try another way.
NARRATOR	Beside the gate stood a hollow wooden post. The dragon spotted a hole near its nose.
DRAGON	One small step.

The Dragon with a Little Voice

작은 목소리의 용 / 이어 읽기

NARRATOR = 성인 안내자 / DRAGON = 아이 용

NARRATOR The dragon stepped behind the post, away from the wind, and leaned toward the hole.

DRAGON Listen to my little voice.

NARRATOR Quiet words travelled through the wood. The gate clicked and opened just a little.

DRAGON I can try again.

NARRATOR The dragon spoke again. Now the gate opened wide. Its little voice had arrived.

DRAGON Listen to my little voice.

NARRATOR Inside, the dragon placed the star above the gate. Warm light spread across the garden.

DRAGON One small step.

NARRATOR Outside, the wind still blew. The dragon's voice was still little. Inside, the star shone.

DRAGON My little voice is enough.
